

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JAMES G. MOULDER, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above should be the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing and peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letters as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

Not Necessary to Boil Clothes

Some women think it is; but that does not alter the facts.

Nine-tenths of the discomfort and half the hard work of wash-day is due to the idea which so many women have, that it is necessary to boil clothes.

It is, if you use ordinary laundry soap. But not, if you use P. & G. Naphtha Soap.

With P. & G. Naphtha Soap and cold, or lukewarm water, you can do more work and better work, than with ordinary laundry soap and boiling water. Do it quicker. Do it easier.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is for sale in almost every grocery in this city.

The price is 5 cents a cake.

SEVEN WESTERLY YOUNG MEN

On Battleship Fleet—Town's Endeavor to Secure New Industry—Local Delegation at Big Banquet in Providence—Sheriff Wilcox Receiving Many Inquiries About Albert Fuller—Jesse H. Noyes, of Stonington Found Dead in Well.

A mill engineer of experience will before the week end make examination of the proposed new mill structure. Both the towns of Westerly and Stonington would exempt the industry from taxation for a term of ten years. It is probable that within a few days the matter of location will be definitely decided. Strong effort is being made to have the industry on one of the local sites, and indications favor that result, although strong bids for the factory have been received from Providence, Pawcatuck, Hope Valley and other places in Rhode Island, also in Massachusetts and Connecticut. However, considerable stock of the company is held in Westerly, and it is expected that the concern will be added to the local industries.

The new narrow fabric loom of the company is the product of Merrill O. Steere of Pawcatuck, who after several years of study and labor has brought out and introduced a new loom capable of doing four kinds of work at once. It will also do anything that can be done on any loom of this nature. Shuttles, bobbins, and other accessories are being taken out, and others are pending.

The loom has many improvements over the ordinary narrow fabric device, and these cover the most important parts. The patent friction let-off, for instance, uses only one-eighth the amount of weight required in other looms. The shuttle motion has many advantages over others, as all wires and straps are discarded and a number of years of the loom's life is saved by a crank shaft arranged at one end of the loom.

The harness motion is another feature, as all wires, straps, hooks, links, levers and jacks are eliminated, and the harness is quickly accomplished, saving time and labor, and it does not get out of position after once being set properly, as the old strap combination is apt to do. The harness may be changed in less than one-quarter of the time usually required on other looms.

The patent warp stop motion and the mechanical stop slip motion are noteworthy features.

The friction drive is a great power saver, in that no power is lost when the loom is started. The loom requires one-quarter the amount of power required to change the slip spools on the ordinary loom, and the warps being overhead are always before the operator. It has 800 pieces less than four ordinary looms require in their construction.

The loom also has a patented double crank shaft which causes the looms to beat up the fabric on both sides at the same time, thereby balancing the loom perfectly, which again produces a more even fabric, eliminating smashes. It has been in practical operation for over a year and has proved to be even better than the inventor claimed it to be.

A large delegation from Westerly attended the Providence board of trade boom banquet in that city Tuesday night, and were prominent among the guests. The delegation consisted of the following: Mr. J. H. Noyes, president of the board of trade, introduced Mayor Robert Fletcher as toastmaster. Present were: W. H. P. Francis, offered prayer. There were twelve speakers, each limited to eight minutes. Mr. Governor George H. Usher was the first speaker, selected to talk for the set of town organizations.

The Westerly delegation returned at 2:35 this (Wednesday) morning, special arrangements having been made to have this through train stop at Westerly.

There are two hundred and twenty-five Rhode Island young men distributed on the warships, just returned from the around the world trip. Those from Westerly are: Edward J. Ahearn, on the Glacier; Horace W. Avery, New Jersey; B. F. Barber, Stewart; James E. Kirk, Missouri; Hadlai P. Watson, Vermont; Leo B. Tourtellot, Missouri; Frank G. Donahue, Rhode Island.

Rev. Francis E. Clark of Boston, founder of the society and president of the organization in the United States, made an address at the closing session of the 23rd annual convention of the Rhode Island Christian Endeavor union in Providence Monday evening. Former Gov. George H. Usher of Westerly made a stirring address on Citizenship. Rev. G. M. Colchart of Westerly is vice president of the State union.

Whenever There is Exposure

To germ diseases, the grip, typhoid fever, diphtheria, consumption, it is especially important that the blood should be pure and rich.

According as the blood is pure and rich or impure and impoverished, the power of resistance to germ diseases is great or small.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure and rich—normal in red and white corpuscles and all other constituents. It restores the appetite, relieves that tired feeling, and builds up the system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. These ingredients are the very remedies that successful physicians prescribe for the same diseases and ailments. There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good" you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

The fog trumpet will be established in a red brick structure, with red roof, located about 40 feet southwesterly from the Watch Hill lighthouse.

Sheriff John B. Wilcox, in charge of the jail in Kingston, has received another warrant for the arrest of Albert Fuller, the horse thief, now in the custody of the sheriff awaiting trial for the charge of larceny. Fuller was taken from the jail at the time of commitment to furnish bonds of $2,500. This warrant comes from Naugatuck.

Chief Brunsfield is receiving letters daily identifying Fuller as the man who stole horses on the dates and in the places named in the record kept by Fuller.

It is believed that before long it will be shown that Fuller personally stole at least 74 horses and carriages in the past three years. In every instance, thus far reported, Fuller's plan was to engage the horse for a drive in the country, starting early in the morning, never to return. In one case he drove off with a horse that did not suit him, and returned to have the animal exchanged for the best one in the stable.

In the superior court at Kingston, Tuesday, before Judge George T. Brown, there was an informal hearing in the case of Walter P. Dixon of Westerly against Edward Miller and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, enjoining them from proceeding with the mortgage sale of the Dixon property, against which condemnation proceedings have been commenced for use for railroad purposes. Attorney Charles A. Aldrich of Providence represented Mr. Dixon, and Attorney John S. Murdock of Providence represented the railroad company. The case was adjourned to send the papers in the case to Providence, where the hearing will be held.

The day was occupied mainly with the case of Oscar T. Dykster against Alston Knowles, and known as the South Kingston oyster case, on trial by jury, with Wayland A. Chapman of Westerly as foreman.

The next case for trial is George B. Carpenter, overseer of the poor for the town of Hopkinton against Wilfred Collins, charged with being the father of an illegitimate child, liable to become a charge on the town.

The case of Joseph Grills against Joseph A. Guarino, both of Westerly, was assigned for trial March 5. The case of Alexander McCall against Robert Stenhouse, to recover for the loss of services of his daughter, another Westerly matter, was assigned for trial on the first jury day of the next session.

Jesse H. Noyes, once prominent in the public affairs of Stonington, but of late years a resident of the town farm, was found dead in a well on the farm, about a mile from the town farm. Mr. Noyes had evidently jumped down the well with a net, and at one time he was missed from the farm Monday afternoon, and it was supposed he had gone to the home of a sister in New London. When it was ascertained that he was not there, a searching party started to locate the old man, and the finding of his dead body was the result.

Mr. Noyes was born in Stonington, March 22, 1820, and for many years he was clerk to his father, John D. Noyes, who served as town clerk. Mr. Noyes was deputy collector in internal revenues during the civil war for the Stonington district and for forty years was registrar of voters. The deceased had also represented Stonington in the state legislature. Mr. Noyes was never married, and has no near relatives except a sister who lives in New London.

TRIFLES THAT ARE REALLY IMPORTANT

It's so easy to make a bluff. It's so easy to get things "pretty near" that nine tailors in ten won't take the trouble to get perfection, and it's this slighting of trifles, this grossing over of small things that results so disastrously for you.

Here's a little "evidence" about The Holbrook Tailoring that will serve to show why we found so much success during the past 20 years in business:

1. To prevent shrinkage every yard of goods is subjected to a special "cold-water" process, thus eliminating all possibility of shrinkage after the garment is made.

2. If necessary we try each coat on twice in order to make sure of perfect fitting garments. None are allowed to leave the store unless right.

DON'T BE SKEPTICAL

Our system of Tailoring and the method we use in fabricating our garments is unsurpassed. The great magnitude of our business and the purchasing of woolsens and other material in large quantities, together with our long experience, enables us to offer you a

BABY BUNTING ILL.

Pet Elephant at Winter Quarters in Bridgeport Has Bad Cold.

Baby Bunting, one of the best trained little elephants in the circus business, broken to vaudeville about a year ago, is critically ill at the Barnum & Bailey winter quarters in Bridgeport. The special care of a veterinary surgeon, Supt. Patterson of the animal department with the show and several attendants.

The elephant is being carefully nursed at night and day with a view of saving her life if possible, as she is a valuable acquisition to the show, as well as a pet with everyone connected with it. The elephant was attacked with a heavy cold three weeks ago, which seems to have settled in at the joints of the body and at one time nearly all hopes of her recovery were abandoned.

Baby Bunting had many tricks which made her a favorite with the attendants of the circus in all parts of the country last season, and before that was seen in vaudeville, and in addition to waiting would sit down at a table, drink from a bottle with the attendant and pretend to have a big spree and at the command of the trainer jump up and waltz at the end of its part of the performance.

Care of The Bathroom.

To insure perfect safety from disease germs every part of the bathroom must be well looked after and a daily cleaning and weekly scrubbing are necessary to keep it in a sanitary condition. The tub should be cleaned each time after it is used. For this purpose keep in the bathroom a bottle of a solution made by dissolving two tablespoonsful of Gold Dust washing powder in a gallon of water. Once a week thoroughly scrub and scald the tub, basin, floor and all the fixtures with hot suds made from the washing powder and pour down the pipes boiling water to which has been added two tablespoonsful of Gold Dust washing powder to every gallon of water. Use a small broom or bent hairpin to remove dirt from the waste pipe. Clean the nickel and brass fixtures in the bathroom by rubbing with equal parts of whitening and Gold Dust washing powder.
